Gov't to seek immediate lifting of 60-day TRO

By Armand N. Novena and Gil C. Cabacungan Jr.

MANILA CITY MAYOR JEJOMAR BINAY may have won a reprieve from the Court of Appeals butsofar as Malacañang's top advisers are concerned, he has not yet escaped the axe.

The Office of the Solicitor General, yesterday served notice it would seek an immediate lifting of the 60-day temporary restraining order issued by the court, which stopped the Palace from suspending Binay.

Justice Secretary Rod Gozon said, for its part, said the court's action was "irrational" and that it had overstepped its boundaries.

Gozon said he found the most glaring was the scope of the TRO.

"The TRO was supposed to only suspend the suspension of Binay but it also restrained that we should stop the investigation," he said.

"They should not do that because Binay was only asking for a TRO to suspend the suspension. The order went beyond that as it stated that all proceedings against Binay is suspended should be stopped."

Solicitor General Antonio Eduardo Padilla said the Department of the Interior and Social Development was now preparing documents needed to make its case against Binay's bid, but gave no specific details.

By Christine O. Avendaño and Juliet Labog-Javellana

SHOULD THE SUPREME COURT decide next week to down the people's initiative to amend the Constitution, it will spell the end to the campaign for Charter change, according to a leader of one of the proponents of the initiative.

Enrico Sison, Gov. Ben Enrillon, spokesman of the Union of Local Authorities of the Philippines (ULAP), yesterday said this was his personal assessment of the situation. He said he did not think similar results for Charter change—converting Congress into a constitutional assembly to tackle the proposed amendments—would be able to take off.

"Go-on (constitutional assembly) will be a last resort if we lose this [initiative] because the government will be down, election fever will set in, the campaign will already be in the people's hands," Enrillon told reporters during a Saturday lunch at the Palace for Gilbert Claudio, President Macapagal-Arroyo's political adviser.

Enrillon was referring to preparations for the May 2011 mid-term elections, which include the national race.

Ice Age dwarf carabao bones from RP found

CHICAGO—RESEARCHERS SAY A BOX of bones left in a museum here a decade ago for a natural history lesson turned out to contain the only known fossil remains of a dwarf water buffalo that roamed the Philippines in the last ice age.

"People bring in stuff all the time," said Larry Rasmussen, the curator of mammals at the city's Field Museum.

Most of the time, it turns out to be skeletons of rock sheep breeds. This time it was of a dwarf water buffalo.

The new species, described in the October issue of the Journal of Mammalogy, has been named Bubalus cebuensis after Cebu, where the bones were first discovered by a mining engineer in 1995.

Then, engineer, Michael Jensen, held onto the bones for nearly 40 years, showing them to a series of people who were stumped by his find. Finally, in 1999, he showed them to Chicago geologist Harold J. Baskin, who suggested Jensen be

Meralco ordered: Don't raise power rates yet

By Gil C. Cabacungan Jr.

A CARMEN LEVEL, FROM BODY HAS ordered the Manila Electric Co. and other distribution utilities to desist from pressing on to their customers the high prices of the electricity they bought from the wholesale electricity spot market (WESM) until it has completed its investigation into the allegations of price fixing in the WESM.

"We told them don't pass the high cost yet until we finish. Otherwise, how will we address the concerns of the public? What they bought should not be passed on yet. That is what we will look at," said Trade Secretary Peter Iriarte.

Palis leads a team composed of Energy Secretary Raphael Lotilla, Finance Secretary Margarita Tanay and Justice Secretary Rod Gozon, which President Macapagal-Arroyo has asked to look into allegations that big players in the WESM have abused their dominance of the power supply and distribution markets to manipulate prices.

The WESM, created in the hope that competition between power suppliers would enable buyers to choose the best prices and thus bring down the cost of electricity, opened only last June.

But in only the first three months of operation, prices in the WESM jumped from an average of P2.58 per kilowatt hour (KWH) to P6.85 per KWH. This prompted the Philippine Electricity Market Corp. (PEMCO), the WESM operator, to launch an investigation, in cooperation with the Power Sector Assets and Liability Management Corp. (PSALM), the largest player in the spot market.

The focus of the PEMCO investigation is on the market's three major players: Manila which buys half of its power supply from WESM; the PSALM which controls half of the country's total generating capacity; and the National Power Corp.

THE MIGHTY PILL BOMBERS ARE 1,000 soldiers and 8,000 militiamen for counter-insurgency campaigns worldwide in full the weight of continuous victory 2010.

Armed Forces Chief of Staff Gen. Romeo Gueza Espinoza is announced in command of the Camp Aguinaldo in Manila last President Binay's victory has approved the recruitment of more soldiers and Civilian Armed Forces Geographical Units (CAFGUs) members.

"This is the first time the President's directive to defend the Communist Party of the Philippines (New People's Army) National Democratic Front by 2010," he said yesterday.

Step behind units

"We officers will concentrate on the most advanced guerrilla fronts... in order to improve their capability in an international level, meaning that increase of their capability," he explained.

Later, military reports suggest the AFP strength is 7,400 armed soldiers. According to Espinoza, half of the 12,000 new troops will act as "control" or "backers" in the new CAFGUs while the other half will support field units.

He said they were authorized to form as many as 90 CAFGUs compared with a total of 7,000 members.

Each CAFGU company will have 40 personnel and 10 soldiers who will act as "backers."

Reports said these CAFGUs also would serve as "village defense or very autonomous" while military troops will support AFP battalions.

The Army expects 12,740 CAFGUs volunteers agreement will create a "solidarity of 2010 day."

Reports said the CAFGUs force will be increased from 10,000 members to be 100,000 troops.

Military tactical advantage

He said "Frontier 17" attacks the regions of General Santos, Zamboanga, Davao and Basilan while "Frontier 18" areas are the Cagayan region and the provinces of Ilocos and Palawan.

"The recruitment of CAFGUs would depend on the recommendations of the military officials and troops that they would be assigned from the battalions involved," he said.

Reports also announced possibility that three more battalions of 1,000 troops would be deployed to build up regions in the 12-hour term of 6,000 troops already there standing down the Special and National Militiamen battalions.

In justifying the field deployment, Espinoza said they wanted to maintain their "tactical advantage" against the group of Abu Sayyaf called Khilafat Mujahideen and Islamists. A battle report from Basilan and Davao, both named for the 2003 Bali bombings.

"We are fully determined to flush off the high value targets... the 7,000 troops is just enough to our intentions," he said.

DEAD of the four rescued fishermen (left) arrived at a Philippine Navy boat, were rescued by US Navy personnel.

US Navy rescues 4 Pino

SARANGGANI CITY.—THE US Navy rescued four Filipino fishermen found clinging to the wreckage of their vessel off Calaguyan Island in Palawan about two days ago, officials said yesterday.

The four fishermen, identified as Ramonito (Dipnito), 34, Andres Sembrado, 25, Jesse Espinoza, 31 and Andres Espinoza, 25, all of Palawan Island in Palawan, were brought to a military hospital here yesterday for treatment.

Their encounter was described by large waves off Palawan.

The four fishermen, who were rescued by the wreckage and their vessel, said they were caught by strong waves.

"We floated for hours by clinging to the wreckage. We were starving, but didn't even have water to drink," Espinoza said.

In a statement, the US Navy said a 31-foot boat with four people was rescued from a sinking ship when it tipped over the side. The ship was a 31-foot boat with four people on board.

LGUs told to enlist aid of civilians vs terrorists

By Herman Borlalar

MANILA (SPECIAL REPORT) — President Gloria Macapagal Arroyo has ordered local government units (LGUs) to enlist the aid of civilians in fighting terrorism, which may include arrest, training, and other activities.

In an executive order issued in August, the president said that LGUs should enlist the aid of civilians in fighting terrorism, which may include arrest, training, and other activities.

"The deployment of ODRs is a sensitive task," Arroyo said. "It is a task that requires the cooperation of the Philippine National Police (PNP) and the local government units (LGUs) in the area." Arroyo said that the PNP should be the lead agency in the deployment of ODRs, but that the LGUs should also be involved in the process.

Make-or-break decision for the Filipino nation

1 Our country is at a historic crossroads

After decades of false starts, wrong turns, and tragic failures, Filipinos have come to a historic crossroads. Poised to amend the 1987 Charter, the nation turns its eyes to the Supreme Court for a decision fraught with historical consequences—amid the tug-of-war between the forces of political reform and the defenders of the status quo.

2 An amendment, not a revision

Is the change in the political system being proposed an amendment or a revision?

To the framers of the country's first Constitution, any change in any provision of the Charter is an amendment. And this is how ordinary Filipinos understood the word to mean—when they voted to ratify each of our country's four Constitutions.

3 A clear and definitive agenda for change

In sum, the People's Initiative—as spearheaded by Sigaw ng Bayan and the Union of Local Authorities of the Philippines (ULAP)—has a definitive and limited agenda for change. And what is paramount is that the will of the sovereign people must be allowed to prevail.

To the 6.3 million Filipino voters who endorsed the People's Initiative, the issue before the Supreme Court is change—a new beginning for the nation.

4 Presidential democracy has failed our country

Over these last 70 years, we have tried to make presidential government work.

The American Founding Fathers—trying to establish democratic government in their vast and diverse society—deliberately designed their Constitution to prevent strong central government.

Transplanted bodily to our factionalized political system, the divided government produced by this elaborate system of checks and balances has all too often produced administrative gridlock.

Twice in the last 20 years, citizens have had to intervene forcibly in the political process to replace oppressive and corrupt Presidents—risking constitutional crises and even civil conflicts.

And, as we saw in 2000-2001, a ruling President can even defy diffuse public opinion with impunity—because the fixed presidential term also makes his impeachment tremendously difficult—short of a political upheaval.

5 Parliamentary governments bring prosperity

We cannot argue against the success of parliamentary systems in the overwhelming majority of European and Asian states.

In our own Southeast Asia, the most prosperous countries have got to where they are under parliamentary governments. We cannot dispute the record of the past 50 years. While the Philippines stagnated under its presidential politics, Singapore, Malaysia and Thailand all flourished under parliamentary governments.

6 Now is the time to turn our country around

Our nation needs to turn a fresh page in its politics. The crucial issue is how to put the national interest above all else. That interest is to unify the nation, reform its politics, put the economy on the path to sustained growth, and reach the status of a Second-World society in 10 years.

Now is the propitious time to turn our country around, and Charter reform is our last hope of getting this done.

7 Let's send a message of hope to our people

We must assure the least among our people that politics can begin to work—not just for politicians—and not just for the rich—but for every citizen.

And we must reawaken the sense of pride in our country—and the civic responsibility—that lies in every Filipino's breast.

For there is nothing that we as a people can not do together—for as long as we have the faith, the will, and the heart.

Mall guards take refresher course

Police strengthen security measures

By Edwin C. Tandoc Jr.

THE EASTERN POLICE DISTRICT GAVE A course "refresher course" to about 300 employees of a large mall in the recently busy Cebu-Corona shopping security measures.

Deputy District Chief Supt. Lito Tirona said he was not in the refresher course to refresh the security measures but to ensure that the mall guards are up-to-date on the latest security measures. He said he was not in the refresher course to refresh the security measures but to ensure that the mall guards are up-to-date on the latest security measures.

Through Tirona, the Philippine National Police district chief reiterated to mall guards that they should be vigilant in their duties.

He said that the mall guards should be vigilant in their duties and should be ready to respond to any emergency situation. He said that the mall guards should be vigilant in their duties and should be ready to respond to any emergency situation.

Meanwhile, Cebu Police Chief Supt. Eusebio Tirona said the refresher course was held to ensure that the mall guards are up-to-date on the latest security measures.

But Tirona said this was not because of the threat and a small number of guards but because of the threat of terrorism, which could spill over to other malls.

"Security deployment has been increased with the mall guards and other security measures were made," Tirona said.

Tirona said the heightened security was also part of police preparations for the upcoming mall trade fairs in Cebu City and the coming holiday season.

The Eastern Police district has jurisdiction over the cities of Marikina, Pasig and Mandaluyong, and the area of Quezon City.

NO QUALMS

Although security guards are a little bit more strict along Cebu-Corona in Quezon City, while mall guards are not duty-bound to ensure the safety of the mall, they are not duty-bound to ensure the safety of the mall.

PAL to acquire 8 wide-bodied planes for int'l routes

Will expand US destinations, resume Europe flights

By Miss E. Chisholm

PHILIPPINE AIRLINES INC. (PAL) will buy various eight new wide-bodied planes from either Airbus or Boeing to expand its routes to the United States and Canada and to resume services in Europe, airline officials said at the meeting yesterday of the flag carrier's board of directors.

The last upcoming HUDs are now in place, as series X113-138, launched the modernization of the Bay County's single-side boat as part of its $940-million refueling program. The single-side boat can serve America's and Asia-Pacific regions.

PA, may spend about $200 million for each of the additional eight aircraft to be acquired. PA wants five to be delivered between 2008 and 2009 and the rest for the rest of 2012.)

"We will know from inside," PALL chair Louis Fox told reporters when asked where the nation would get the money for the fast-track talks.

"We can get the support of the support credit agencies, as US Bankhead is already in an operating loan," F&I president and chief operating officer James Kautz said in a separate interview. He also noted that the airline's losses would double by year's end as a result of planes on order.

Westerns had said earlier that the bag was not one in the final phase of talks with their European export credit agencies to secure a loan of up to $600 million to fund its refinancing program.

PRG has some well-tested plans flying in Los Angeles, Los Angeles and San Francisco in the United States and Vancouver in Canada. They are looking 747-400s and have our Airbus 380-800s.

The Bag carrier is now choosing between the Airbus A40-400 and the Boeing 777-300ER by Lockheed Martin and Boeing.

Bassett said HCL might fly to Seattle and San Diego initially. "We're [also] looking at flying to other cities in California and... I'm going to talk to lawyers," Bassett said.

Full stopped services to Europe in the late 1980s when it was hit by the Asian financial crisis and labor shortages. The airline has already recovered through a restructuring program.

The Hyundai Azura and Hyundai Tucson were each named winner in the Strategic Vision 2006 Total Value Awards. Results announced last October 9, 2006 placed the Azura atop the large car segment, and Tucson as a tie (with the Saturn ION) for the top spot in the small sport utility vehicle segment.

The Strategic Times poll surveyed more than 14,000 more voters before and after 90 days of sequestration. Results from this information spotlight voters that give priority to the best economic value paired with the highest educational satisfaction.

Consumers were asked to survey if questions about their ownership experience, including buying, owning and driving their new vehicles, as well as questions about their economic expectations of the car. The Hyundai Accent and Tucson earned top consumer ratings with a combination of efficient styling, outstanding safety features, and the Hyundai Advantage. Associated Press Wirephoto

Advancing cancer research in RP

By Charles E. Rubin

WHILE THE BUILDING CANCER incidence rates in the country, the University of Santo Tomas Hospital has recently introduced a cost-effective and comprehensive cancer-fighting strategy: the advancement of cancer research—both basic research to prevent, detect and cure. Building cancer is a simple matter of building knowledge. It's a matter of knowing exactly about every aspect and every part of the disease, its causes, its effects, its treatment, its prevention, its cure. The University of Santo Tomas Hospital is now in a position to lead cancer research in the country as a leading center in cancer research.

Alfonso says he brings changes with the recent opening of the hospital's new cancer center. The center is located in the building that housed the University of Santo Tomas Hospital's cancer research program. By 2010, the hospital will complete renovation of the 10-story new cancer preventing cancer treatment, and cardiovascular, cancer, organ transplantation, and chronic and metabolic disease management and rehabilitation services.

Philosophy
University of Santo Tomas Hospital is the first in the Philippines to offer a cancer-fighting program to all cancer patients, regardless of their financial status. The hospital is committed to providing cancer-fighting services to all cancer patients, regardless of their financial status.

There is a need to develop cancer research in the Philippines. The cancer research program is a multi-disciplinary approach that involves the collaboration of various disciplines, including basic research, clinical research, and public health research. The program is designed to advance cancer research in the Philippines and to provide cancer-fighting services to all cancer patients, regardless of their financial status.

Closer ties between Manila, Taipei pushed

By Rowan N. Domingo

INVESTORS, DEVELOPERS AND other experts promote pushed by their cross-border investment of capital, goods, services, and information to help develop a growth corridor that links several economies in Taiwan and Philippines.

In a forum held in downtown Manila to showcase business opportunities through the Philippines-Taiwan Economic Corridor, experts said there were obstacles that needed to be overcome if the potential of connecting the industries, labor force and other resources of the two nations were to be realized.

Experts want easier flow of goods, persons, services

Taipei and Manila signed last December a memorandum of understanding on the establishment of the corridor that links the economies of Taiwan, Philippines and China.

Winston Cristof Peralta, an associate with the University of Asia and the Pacific, and based in the Philippines, said the high costs of electricity and international shipping, and high and "unstable" expenses, such as high protection of intellectual property rights, and the frequent intervention of the judiciary as well as the slow pace of judicial decisions.

Highlighting with the Philippines' advantage towards deep port of labor and to available land, information, and services, he said the air and sea transport infrastructure already in place.

"On the other hand, Taiwan's cheap and skilled workers and its available land for industrial use, the high use of financial manufacturing, and semi-weighted products of investments in manufacturing and other driving economic movements," he added.

Roberto Manalang, associate representative with the Philippine Trade and Investment Center in Taipei, said some areas that the two governments were working on covered the harmonization of various provisions, needed if goods could be moved as freely and efficiently as possible.

"We also need a common protocol for various products that are hope to be able to an expedite move for goods," Manalang said.

He added that Taiwanese firms needed some push, both in the establishment of Philippine agencies that allow greater cross-border movement of value-added and/or high-tech goods.

A related effort concerns the establishment of free trade zones between Taipei and Manila and the establishment of a new route between Taipei and Luzon City and a connecting Luzon Subic Bay.

Polioles last aimed at lowering the cost of shipping is also needed considering that current rates in Taiwan are lower than what we have here," Manalang added.

Chen An Sheng, vice director of the Taiwan Institute of Economic Research, said in outlining the measures of "facilitators" such as private sector, the Taiwanese government in the Philippines would need to be key in making the move.

Card firms set up credit info bureau

By Michelle V. Flores

CREDIT CARD COMPANIES HAVE set up their own credit information bureau to protect themselves from delinquent cardholders.

Salvador Tanabe, chair of the Credit Card Association of the Philippines (CCAP), said the credit information bureau firm to be launched will have at least 1.5 million credit card holders in its capacity.

The credit information bureau was officially launched last year. Tanabe said, but CCAP had just recently fully incorporated it for the benefit of its 15 members, which include Alfa Bank and Citibank.

The bureau will allow members to share information on delinquent cardholders. Once they know an applicant is on the black list, it is up to them to decide what company to dole out credit to, he said.

"I would appreciate the application" he told reporters speaking on the sidelines of the 15th anniversary conference of CCAP in Shangri-La Hotel.

He said a credit card holder is placed on the credit information bureau blacklist if he or she has delinquent payment of amount, unable to pay for at least 150 days from the due date.

Tanabe said the CCAP's credit information bureau was different from the one proposed by the Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas and the Bankers Association of the Philippines.

CCAP's role is to have a blacklist of delinquent credit card holders, while the BSP has proposed by the BSP and the BSP will have track a list of most positive list of people that engage in banking and credit transactions.

The establishment of a credit information bureau is part of the agenda of the government and credit card users want to develop the country's financial sector.

Tanabe said CCAP's own credit information bureau may possibly link up with the BSP and BSP's proposed bureau once the latter is established.

He said CCAP supports the BSP and the BSP's efforts to lobby for the immediate passage of the bill making necessary a credit information bureau. The establishment will get the Philippines entry closer to making financial and credit systems with international best practices.

CCAP had credit card transactions for P200 billion last year.

RP to host Asia-Pacific real estate summit

By Charles E. Baban

IT'S 57 YEARS OF EXISTENCE, THE International Real Estate Federation, known popularly known by its French acronym Fides, has built an enviable reputation as the worldwide center of international real estate.

The federation is not only international—it with 300 real estate professional organizations and 1.1 million real estate professionals coming from 90 countries—but also multiethnicity since anyone involved in real estate can belong whether they are Indians, Chinese, Koreans, Americans, Europeans, Indonesians, Malaysians, Singaporeans, Vietnamese, Filipinos, or others.

No wonder Fides has special status in the United Nations where it is recognized as the voice of the private sector when matters of real estate are considered.

Next month, its chapter here in the Philippines will be hosting Fides' Asia-Pacific Regional Summit from Nov. 20 to 21 at Hotel Sheraton Manila in Manila City.

13 countries

The summit, chaired by David Allen, President of Fides, will be participated by real estate industry leaders from 13 member countries—Australia, India, Indonesia, Japan, Korea, Malaysia, the Philippines, Singapore, Taiwan, Thailand, and Vietnam.

"Fides, the globalization of the real estate market, Fides has long focused on and center market indicators for investment across the countries comprising the membership of the federation. For its part, Fides-Philippines will take the opportunity to assess the Indonesian's demand in order to match our membership to other members in the Asia-Pacific region after two to leading beyond their own borders to try to realize higher returns by taking advantage of unique opportunities that the Philippine market could offer," explains Fides' president of Fides-Philippines.

It will be leading the Philippines' investment focus on Nov. 21 and shall discuss the country's situation on overall investment targets and growth trends.

Perspective

Together with its annual summit, Fides-Philippines, its 8th Fides-Philippines forum, will provide market perspective perspectives to assess the real estate growth and demand in the Philippines in the global context "beyond the borders."

Others speaking for the summit are President Economic and Development Secretary (Dela) director general, Bureau of Philippine Economic Zone Authority, Bureau Director general Lito de Lina, Philippine Economic Authority (Dela) Director General, Philippine Investment, Insurance, and Insurance Agency, and Philippine Investment Industry (Dela) Director General.

"Indeed, Fides-Philippines will take the opportunity to establish the unique surrounding opportunity as we would like to have the representation of Indonesia and Singapore as real estate development leaders and that of Australia, Malaysia, and Thailand on the investment industry, as the hope that the country through its local and some developers and investors for government agencies, we learn from these leading players in the Asia-Pacific region," Fides says.

CASINO IS YOUR NEIGHBORHOOD is a deeper film distance before in long-distance love affairs. Two years ago, the rock-a-billy brother made an MMA GMS and flew to San Francisco, California to visit his dad. The dad's been there, this guy would change his life forever. For her, the song "I Left My Heart in San Francisco" resonated.

Familiar

While in a club with friends, Casinero met her soul mate, Nadine. She thought he looked familiar—it was as if they'd already met. For some reason, the full connection with him, she immediately discarded the idea, because he knew nothing about the world. Back to work in Manila, Casinero on location from her to be his friend as a friend. She was the girl—and an electric meeting began.

Over summer, Nadine came home for a visit. The two spent a lot of time in private, and got to know each other very well. Then, they realized: They both missed more than just friendship.

Future

When Nadine flew back to the States, he began calling Casinero, everything they would talk for hours. She slowly opened herself up to a long-distance relationship. Casinero learned to wait the promise, even if the future seemed uncertain. After coming back to Manila a year after they met in San Francisco, he told Casinero if she was willing to spend

AFTER 100 MOVIES, ROMANO (2006) is a rare accident, Topo (Angel Locsin), who plays the role of the former's mother. The band's rules in the other end of the line are, "It's just making it."

From then, Topo is spoiled by starring and 44th actress from her devoted boyfriend, who stills and reminds her that they belong together. One-on-one and in a sense of a double to cry on, she returns this (Emma Delle), a still center agent, and his (Jia Chino), who works with her in a hospital.

As the story unfolds, we get a glimpse of Topo in her home in a home period, mostly positive, who even showed to kill anyone who would threaten his relationship with Topo.

One by one, people who speak ill of the protagonist's dead boyfriend also start getting the mysterious calls themselves, and then one by one, they, the "Topo" team, account to "Topo" for his, she is not picture movers of the role, and how they did the best to decipher how to capture her heart to save the lives of her friends—and her, as well.

Toward its makers as a truly original Filipino horror movie, "Topo" (Angel Locsin) and Topo (2006) Emma Delle, "Topo," have both been shown locally—they're about little pieces that have their prey and "prey" to devour! Or, a little premise using computers in Topo (Emma Delle) and Topo (2006) "Topo."

Having said that, Topo director Michael Tarkenton (who is a confident hand at writing as well as directing), despite the movie's predictability, just the same, like the recent "White Lady," the movie effectively delivers light, convincing color and delivers to evoke in atmosphere of dread, and features five more than its rivals.

While it never achieved, but he takes his role too seriously and looks rather all

Songbird gets emotional in 'Twenty'

By Ronald C. Mangunat

WIDOW VILARQUIZ, 48, WON'T TRY MEAT AGAIN
 1st stage in the country today, undoubtedly cried out to has come under "Therapy" at the Augusta Coliseum. The show celebrates two colorful decades of success in the business.

After an extensive length of opening, where 'Whisper' sary about her humble beginnings, and the love and unity of a performance, she got emotional during her closing act.

Outburst The second emotional outburst happened around the last part of the show when, prior to singing "Gladly Never" ("Koi to Shite-ku"), one of her visiting parents whom she started visiting singing contest, the son told her her mother passed on old ring to the son but her father would have money for his son.

As her parents were shown on the video wall, she tearfully welcomed her grandfather: "Hingapamamam pa ako sa lola dahil laganay nagpapaligaya sa akin dahil sa buong buhay ko."

Admitting she was not in her element that night, with her speaking voice barely 1", Jodi Blum's to-ang-pah-pah laughs, Ma-ma-shan-ah-ah-ah, the made fun of the situation by crackling jokes, "What do you call a young person from Japan, know that one? An onion or onion!"

Beyoncé composed her 30-year singing career into four albums. In fact, she said it's been a series of "love affairs" between her and the people with whom she has shared her musical passion: composers, arrangers, songwriters, directors, photographers, even wardrobe sty-

WFLA-TV, Much deserved success.

Robin Thicke went up the stage to exchange Saturday Look with Reggie.

In fact, there's more to the song, as the more intense lyrics belie the happy, bouncy melody. While the chorus is a simple, catchy hook, the verses are a bit more complex, with the lyrics being a bit more difficult to hear. The song is a great example of a song that is both catchy and meaningful.
